NO STRIKE SETTLEMENT

Efforts To Induce Return To Work Fail

Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Again racketeers, acting under orders from distant labor dictators have invaded this peaceful and prosperous community. Three years ago it was the CIO, who sent an oily barber from Idaho here to organize the miners. Now another band of so-called organizers is here with a gold brick slicker talk to bamboozle the miners. On April 17, according to a survey made by the Nugget each month, there were 2,622 men employed in the mining industry in Nevada County, earning an average of $150 per month. Last week over 1,000 of these were thrown out of employment directly and indirectly by a strike called by those who pose as saviors of the working people.

As a matter of fact this little band of hate inciters from the central organizations of labor in the East, are costing the miners here about $6,000 for every day they are in this community. No one can compute what they cost the community. We wont say that those who have lately invaded this community are red-rag communists, but it has been proven time and again that when they get into trouble they immediately call to their defense shyster lawyers whose only business is defending communists.

"How Long O Cataline," do the American people have to stand for these rabble rousers whose interest in "organizing labor" is to fleece the poor suckers that swallow their line of hog-wash? How much must communities across this broad land of ours endure before Congress and legislatures everywhere will not only protect by appropriate laws, the gullible workers against their golden promises and noxious propaganda, but also that great third party to all labor disputes, the public?

We pray that the day may speedily come when throughout the United States the same law which controls disputes between railroad workers and their employers, will be enacted to control all other controversies between workers and their employers. It is high time that a nation such as ours, with its high assumption of possessing the greatest civilization of all time, called a halt to labor sharks that destroy both industry and the homes of the workers. For how can a man who has been reluctantly forced to quit work because of a so-called strike, or has been forced from his employment through the machinations of rapacious labor sharks, continue the payments on his home, his car and even the furniture in his home.

Even though the employers were to grant the extortionate demands, the worker in the long run is the inevitable loser. Often at long last when he resumes his job his creditors have stripped him as clean of possessions as new born babe. Who are the gainers? The organizer and the big chief in the East who receives whatever money screwed out of the new members the organizer chooses to send back to the big treasure chest of the "central organization."

Here in Nevada City and Grass Valley where for a generation both stock holders in the mines and the mine workers have prospered as in no other mining district in the United States, where more miners own their own homes, take part

Expert's Report to Grand Jury Criticizes Operation Of Three County Offices

Certified Accountant Raps Sheriff, District Attorney And Coroner

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen, Coroner A. M. Holmes and District Attorney Vernon Stoll are subjected to criticism in the annual certified accountant's report of Nevada County, filed jointly late yesterday with the partial report of the Nevada County Grand Jury.

The certified accountants report, made by Peterson Company of San Francisco, deals at length with the activities of each county office and makes recommendations in several instances for what it terms more efficient operation.

Reports On Sheriff

Regarding the sheriff's office the report reads:

"The fees of record collected by the sheriff are very negligible and the records in which they are recorded are of very temporary character. In our check of this office we noted deficiencies totaling $6.50.

Report On Coroner

The following report was given on Coroner Holmes' office:

"The records of the coroner, A. M. Holmes, are kept at his mortuary establishment in Nevada City. We reviewed the claims for mileage, fees and other expenses filed by the coroner with detail records kept by him. We noted that an inquest or investigation fee of $10 was charged in almost every case.

"At the time of our audit, there were no funds or property of record in the hands of the coroner belonging to indigents, etc. In addition to mileage fees and other coroner's expenses we noted a number of claims submitted by Mr. Holmes to the county and allowed and paid by the County of Nevada for burial of indigents. The total of such claims amounted to $705. These were all made by Mr. Holmes, who is the owner of the Holmes Funeral Home.

"This procedure places this official, in our opinion, of being directly interested in a contract with the county, which is definitely contrary to law. We refer you to Political Code Section 4005 which provides for suits to recover moneys illegally paid."

Comment On Prosecutor

Comment on the district attorney's office was as follows:

"Under Political Code Section 4308, the district attorney of your county has maintained a special fund of $2,500. This section of the code provides that the district attorney shall file vouchers with the auditor at the end of each fiscal year, showing what disposition he has made of any moneys received from such funds. We found that the district attorney had not filed such vouchers with the auditor for over three years.

"Before completion of our audit, however, the vouchers were filed for each year, up to and including June 30, 1940. In many instances the vouchers consisted only of a check to, we presume, an operative in criminal matters. We are not sure that these meet the requirements under the law. Vouchers for these expenditures should be sufficiently itemized to conform to legal requirements; showing dates, rates, purpose ets. We also found that the district attorney special fund moneys were commingled in a bank account with the trust moneys of other clients of the official. We recommend this fund

Jury Recommends Increased Efficiency In Some Offices

The Nevada County Grand Jury, of which R. J. Bennetts is foreman, submitted a partial report to Superior Judge George L. Jones Friday afternoon.

The report showed the jury inspected the activities of all the county officers. Recommendations for increased efficiency were made in some instances.

The report complimented County Clerk and Auditor R. N. McCormack and praised Custodian Dennis Coughlan and Mrs. Guenther for the cleanliness of the courthouse.

The report stated the increasing practice of chance games such as "Bingo" and other chance devices have been referred to the district attorney for his attention and enforcement when illegal.

"We are greatly concerned about the huge total welfare expenditures" th report read, "and we do not believe there is any likelihood of a reduction, unless more strenuous efforts are made along certain lines. We therefore, strongly urge our representative in the state senate, the Hon. Jerrold L. Seawell, and our representative in the state assembly, Hon. Allan G. Thurman to work for the passage of a bill or bills that would accomplish the following objectives:

"1—A complete consolidation of the state board of public welfare and the state relief administration on a non-political and thoroughly modern welfare basis.

"2—That there should be no division between the unemployable and the employable, but that all those requiring relief should be put under one category and such relief to be administered by counties under state supervision on the same basis as other categorical aids, with the state bearing the larger portion of this expense, which we feel under the present conditions should be seventy

1200 AFL Miners Firm In Decision To Remain On Strike Against Four Mines

WEEKEND EFFORTS OF THE MINE WORKERS PROTECTIVE LEAGUE TO INDUCE 1,030 MINERS AT THE IDAHO-MARYLAND, NEW BRUNSWICK, SCOTIA AND BULLION MINES TO RETURN TO WORK AT 7 A. M. TODAY FAILED AND THE STRIKE SITUATION AT THE FOUR GOLD MINING PROPERTIES REMAINS UNCHANGED.

TWELVE HUNDRED AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR MINERS ATTENDED A MASS MEETING LAST NIGHT AND REAFFIRMED THEIR STRIKE STAND AND TO BACK UP THE STRIKE COMMITTEE'S DEMAND OF A FIVE DAY WEEK WITH A $1.25 PER DAY PAY BOOST.

The Mine Workers Protective League at its mass meeting yesterday, which was attended by an estimated 250, accepted the mine operator's agreement, advanced by a league committee, for the return to work under a six dayweek plan, with time and one half ror Saturdays and Sundays.

The league, however, could not induce any men to go through the Scotia or New Brunswick picket lines and only a few passed through the pickets at the Idaho-Maryland.

The Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation, which operates the Idaho-Maryland and New Brunswick, said by the showing today, the deadline for the return to work of its employees under the six day week, time and one half for Saturdays offer, has been extended. Even though limited, Idaho officials announced operations are continuing and will continue at the Idaho-Maryland.

General Manager Otto Schiffner of the Lava Cap Mines is to meet late today with a committee, named at a meeting of Lava Cap workers yesterday, regarding a demand for time and a half Saturday, which was voted upon favorably by the miners yesterday. The Lava Cap miners who favored a five day week, $1.24 per day raise were in a small minority.

Several hundred strikers were on the picket line at the Idaho-Maryland thi msorning but the picketing was orderly. Nothing was said to the men who did pass through the line but it was noted the names were written down by some of the strikers.

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen was on hand. Ten California Highway Ptarolmen directed traffic and kept the continual stream of automobiles moving.

The AFL strike committee, of which Edward Hamilton is chairman, announced hundreds have reported for picket duty and the men will be put on four hour picket duty shifts.

President Olney Donnelly of the Protective League regards the present situation as "serious."

"We are facing a shutdown of the mines and a serious setback to the communities of Grass Valley and Nevada City." Donnelly said. "The league still has the contract with the mines where the strikes are in effect. The contract is legal. Irregardless if the AFL had the camp organized 100 per cent, the operators could not deal with them. We are standing firm."

Donnelly said the league's committee which secured the time and one half on Saturdays concession from the operators has the full power to act in the present crisis.

In the meanwhile Organizer Charles Daley of the AFL, said the AFL committee, as in accordance with previous statements, are willing to sit down with the mine operators at any hour of the day or night to come to a "successful understanding" for the return of the men to work.

Daley said the charter for the AFL local in Grass Valley is due to arrive by special delivery tonight or tomorrow.

"At last night's meeting," the AFL strike committee, "it was unanimously decided that any contract signed with any other organization other than the new AFL miners local will not be recognized by the group."

The offer made by the operators, with Robert M. Searls of the Empire-Star Mines, Ltd., acting as spokesman, for the return to work of the men at the mines under a six day, time and one half for Saturdays and Sundays setup, contained the following provisions:

"1—The league immediately will

DEATH COMES TO FATHER OF MRS. CLYDE GWIN

Following a telegram, announcing the accidental death of Wm. McBratney, in Ogden, Utah, father of Mrs. Clyde Gwin of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Gwin left hurriedly by motor yesterday for that city to attend the funeral services.

No details of the accident which caused Mr. McBratney's death were received. He was a retired employe of the Southern Pacific Company, aged 72 years, and had often visited his daughter here in Nevada City. He made several warm friends in this city, who will learn of his untimely passing with deep regret.

Smith, in his leisure hours has a large hobby; he takes hikes in the Sierras. Every where he goes, his camera goes with him, and some of his colored photography is tops. Lava Cap Mines Manager Explains Position

Schiffner Says Shutdown Necessary If Demands Unreasonable

So that his employees and the public as well, may know the conditions existing at the Lava Cap mining properties, General Manager Otto Schiffner has issued the following statement:

"The relations between the Lava Cap Gold Mining Corporation and its employees have been amicable and cooperative for eight years. This company has honestly and faithfully endeavored to do everything possible for the comfort and happiness of its employees. We have met with our employees at regular intervals and have discussed with them many problems involving their wellbeing and it has been a great source of pleasure to me to see our employees express their views in their own way without fear or favor. This has been a great help to us in bettering their conditions. An effort is being made at this time by outside influences to disrupt this satisfactory relationship. This is a matter concerning all of our employees and should be given serious thought.

"It is my understanding that a petition has been circulated among our employees and signed by a great many of them under intimidation, demanding a 40-hour week with a raise of $1.24 per day.

"This Corporation is not on a position at this time to grant any increase in wages and should such a demand be made, there would be no other alternative than to suspend operation until such a time that this is possible.

"I met with the present day shift of our employees on Monday, April 28, and after a full discussion of the 40-hour week for nearly two hours, wherein many of our employees took part, they voiced a definite preference for continuing under the present status without change, by a vote of 82 to 12.

"It is my plan to meet with the other shift of our employees on Monday, May 5, and discuss this matter in detail and get an expression from them. Whatever their wishes may be, this Corporation shall do its very best to comply with them.

"Gold mining is not enhanced during the period of advancing prices of basic commodities as now exists; in fact, the contrary is the case and it is very questionable if those properties working on a narrow margin will continue to operate, even at the present scale of wages if commodity prices continue to advance. The obvious reason is that the price of gold is fixed regardless of the rise in the cost of supplies. In this, gold mining differs from all other industries in our Country, where, when the cost of raw products, labor, and supplies rise, the selling price of the commodities rise upward proportionately. This must be obvious to everyone.

"In the present national emergency, regardless of whether we subscribe to the activities of the Washington Administration to bring us into the European conflict or not, there can be no division of opinion as to our wholehearted support in the preparedness program which has for its objective the defense of our Nation. Patriotism finds its greatest support always from the basic principle that men will fight in defense of their homes and in this emergency, we are faced with this—the most sacred obligation to our families and ourselves.

"Gold mining contributes very little, if anything at all, toward this program and for that reason, is not an essential industry in our preparedness program. The men who are now employed in the gold mines of this country could be used to much better advantage in those industries necessary for our defense. If it were not for the fact that in suspending

Time To Break A Bad Habit

Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau, in announcing plans for the new 12 billion dollar tax program, has referred to it as "possibly the largest the world has ever known."

The American people have decided that this country must have adequate defense, and they have also indicated a willingness to pay for achieving this national security. Coupled with this, however, they have the right to expect really rigid economy in the non-defense operations of government. Actually, the situation at the present time can scarcely be said to meet the public's wishes in this respect.

We will, during the coming fiscal year, spend at least 15 billion dollars for military and naval purposes. Non-military spending will be about as high as in years past, and will take around 7 billion dollars. In other words, this non-defense spending will consume about 60 per cent of the revenues that the Treasury Department is now scratching its head to raise.

Non-defense spending in recent years has been partly devoted to various purposes which were defined when first initiated as "emergency" in nature. Their proponents declared that these spending measures were necessitated by the depression and its accompanying "bad times."

All are agreed that times are far better at present, and it would therefore seem to follow that some, at least, of these "emergency" operations could stand a good shaving. With the mounting burden that defense is placing upon the taxpayer, neither his willingness nor his ability to pay should suffer because of wasteful non-defense expenditures which fall in the "habit" rather than the "necessity" category.—Contributed.

WHY TRY TO FAN-OUT THE HEAT?

BE Cool THIS SUMMER WITH ELECTRIC COOLING

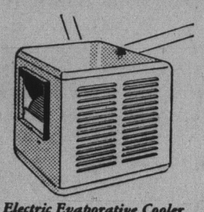
Is it HOT and DRY where you live and work?



Electric Evaporative Cooler

A fan is not much help giving comfort when the air is hot and dry as dust. You stir up the air, perspiration trickles down the back and you just get hotter and dryer. Let an Electric Evaporative Cooler blow a cool, refreshing breeze through the rooms of your home this summer. The Evaporative Cooler is low in first cost and inexpensive in operation. An Evaporative Cooler supplies cool moist air as if blown through a waterfall just outside the window.

Is it HOT and STICKY with heat and humidity where you live and work? In many parts of California it is the heat plus humidity that makes summertime a season of misery. Steamy heat must be changed to cool, dry air. A fan cannot do this. Only real Air Conditioning by means of the efficient Electric Room Cooler can do this. Inside is a freezing system with fans that draw in hot, humid air, then dry and chill this air and circulate it through a room.

Youth Bakes First Cake; Ability Praised

John Davis, student at the Nevada City High School, is a proud boy today.

Davis has baked his frist cake.

The local high school youth has been an apprentice at Kopp's Bakery under the high school's plan of giving practical instruction to students in the vocation they intend to follow after leaving school.

Heretofore, Davis had to be content with minor tasks but today his opportunity came. And, according to those who have sampled the cake, Davis has passed the test.

Miss Severtson, home economics instructor at the high school, praised Davis' cake-making ability. After showing the cake around at the high school, Davis took what remained after sampling home to his mother.

in the government of their cities, support its charities, lead law-abiding lives, rear families of children that grow into useful citizens and often distinguished leaders, at intervals there come those evangels of hatred, promising all things to all men, whose sole purpose is to disrupt our mining industry, seize the hard won substance of the workers, and to line their own pockets with ill-gotten pelf.

We believe that now as never before the Mine Workers Protective League should live up to its name. It should expose all hardy rascals that mislead and betray those who foolishly believe that conscienceless scamps can get them something for nothing, or even bring them the millenium. The League should not only appeal to all miners in this district, by contrasting their own beneficient organization, with its aid to bereaved miners' familis, its assistanec to members who are hurt, and benefits in time of stress, with the fact that never in the memory of man has a professional labor speeler kept any of his promises. The miners who pay their cash into any national organization never receive a penny of it back. They are subject to assessments to carry on communistic labor wars in the great industries of the East, they are bled so white by labor parasites in the national organizations that even if they should receive a higher wage through the strong arm aid of goon squads, they lose it all and more beside through the assessment route.

Camptonville Citizen Passes

CAMPTONVILLE, May 5. — The community was shocked Thursday morning upon learning of the death of Elmer Stark Robinson Hall, which took place Wednesday at the St. Luke Hospital at San Francisco following an illness of only a few days which no one knew about.

Deceased was born at Elmira, Sacramento County, on May 29, 1880, spent his childhood there and came to this section when a young man, being first employed at the old P. G. & E. Mill back in 1898. Later he left that location and came to town and followed stage drving for a time and in this capacity, with his congenial nature, he cultivated a host of friends all up and down the traveled road. He was a figure characistic of the pioneer days. In 1908 a team which he was driving ran away and the stage crashed, injuring a leg so that it had to be amputated. Recovering, he returned to the P. G. & E. mill where he served the company as watchman until only a few years ago. He was transferred to Colfax where he spent a couple of years and then moved to San Francisco where he served as watchman in one of the companies warehouses up to the time of his death.

five per cent of the total relief and categorical aid costs.

"3—That no person should receive relief from state or county, or both until he can show that he has been a self supporting citizen in the state of California for at least five years.

"4—Since everything should be done to cause the distribution of food products to more adequately meet our modern day civilization, less relief should be in the form of cash and more relief should be given in the form of food, thus the surplus of certain crops could be used to the greater advantage of both the relief recipients and the farmers of the state; provided that no relief in any form be given persons using same for the purchase of intoxicating liquors.

"5—We feel that old age benefits should be unform in all states, taking into account living costs and that continuous efforts should be made to seek federal action to prevent undue burdens falling on those few states, such as California where pensions now paid are much higher than the average. Any old age pension plan should be based on need and within the ability of the taxpayer.

The following resolutions were adopted by the grand jury:

"Whereas the hazardous condition on the Tahoe Ukiah highway, west of the city limits of Grass Valley existing near the Weeds home is recognized generally as an extremely hazardous situation and whereas numerous ccidents have occurred at this point, be it resolved, therefore that the state highway department, the Nevada City Highway headquarters and the county board of supervisors attention be directed to this perilous condition with a view of making traffic safe."

"Whereas, it has been called to the attention of the grand jury of the very dangerous curve existing on the Grass Valley-Nevada City Highway at a point designated as Town Talk and whereas this curve should be negotiated at a moderate rate of speed, be it resolved, therefore that the attention of the state highway department be directed to this situation with the suggestion that a sign be installed at the point in question limiting speed to 25 miles per hour, if this is impractical we suggest that steps be taken to widen the road at this point for greater safety."

THE DEVIL AND MISS JONES TO OPEN WEDNESDAY

Telling what happens when the richest man in the world sets about making a private first hand investigation of personnel troubles in one of his many enterprises, "The Devil and Miss Jones" which opens Wednesday in the Nevada Theatre stars Jean Arthur as a department store employee with Charles Coburn as the millionaire and Robert Cummings in the romantic lead opposite Miss Arthur.

Edmund Gwenn, Spring Byington, S. Z. Sakall and William Demarest are also featured in the hilarious comedy-fantasy, which is said to embrace uniquely entertaining episodes. Some of Manhattan's best known land marks form the back ground for many of the film's gay sequences. A Coney Island outing on a crowded weekend afternoon is one of the high lights.

The trouble begins when, as a protest against working conditions, Coburn is hung in effigy in front of a big department store that happens to be one of the hundreds of corporations and establishments he owns. Furious, he decides to see for himself what is going on and plans to trap the ringleaders of the scheme redhanded.

he operations of this Corporation, but three-quarters of our employees, who are married and have homes in our community, would be put to great hardship in having to leave their homes to seek employment elsewhere, it is my opinion that we should suspend operation to further the worthy purpose in which our country is now engaged.

"It is obvious from the foregoing statement that we are fulfilling every obligation to our employees if we let them decide whether we shall continue to operate our mine or suspend its operation until a more opportune time preents itself. As stated above, about half of our employees have almost unanimously voiced their preference to continue under the present status already. At the meeting next Monday, a final decision will be made.

"Unfortunately, about 60 per cent of humanity does very little thinking in their own behalf unless a period of stress and emergency presents itself. For this reason, I am taking the liberty to address you on this subject, which is so vital to your wellbeing.

"The community, as a whole, has enjoyed prosperity always. No period of depression invaded us after the World War. Even during the low ebb that existed subsequent to 1929, there was never a time that want was felt in Nevada City or Grass Valley. Wages, even as now, were better than in any other gold mining district in this state where like conditions prevailed.

"It has been a life-long principle with me not to dictate to employees in the matter of their union affiliations, religion, politics and in their private affairs, and by that same token, I resent others imposing themselves on our employees in these matters. From time to time, agitators have inflicted themselves on our employees to create dissention and dissatisfaction and to disturb the amicable relations that exist between this Corporation and its employees. Such a movement is now on foot and I would caution our employees to council among themselves, considering all the factors in their entirety as to how they would reflect themselves on their immediate and future wellbeing and not allow themselves to be influenced wholly and completely by "soap-box" orators who come from the outside, creating struggle and strife, and then walk away and let our employees "holding the bag."

"There is nothing in the foregoing statement designed to influence you regarding your union affiliations and I am always glad to discuss matters for betterment of working conditions individually or collectively. The important thing is to know definitely what is best for your wellbeing and then not allow outside influences to prevent their attainment.

"My sympathies are definitely with unionization of labor and so long as unions are conducted for the benefit of the workingman, they fill a most necessary part in the wellbing of yourselves and our social order as a whole. This social order reaches its highest attainment when the relationship between the employee and employer is predicated on a sense of fairness and consideration each has for th other's problem and breaks down in the absence of this fair play.

"It is a fundamental concept that no wrong can perpetuate itself or endure for long. It sows the seed for its own destruction. This applies to employers and workingmen alike.

"In view of the amicable relations that have always prevailed between the Lava Cap Gold Mining Corporation and its employees, I beg you to weigh these matters carefully in making your decisions and am ready to assure you that your problems, whatever they may be, will receive the most sincere and earnest considerations by me."

Empire Star Wins Suit With Golden Center Mine

An injunction and damages in the sum of $2,531.34 was awarded to the Empire-Star Mines, Ltd., who charged in a suit, which was on trial for more than a month in the superior court here, that Cooley Butler and Wallace Butler, operators of the Golden Center Mine, delberately for a period of four years drained water from the Golden Center into a winze of the Pennsylvania Mine, operated by the plaintiff company.

The decision was handed down Friday by Superior Judge Warren Steel of Yuba County, who heard the case.

Judge Steel's decision in part reads:

"Without further comment upon the evdence or the various matters or arguments which have been advanced by the counsel both orally and in their written briefs, the court is constrained to hold that the two veins in question united and formed a junction in contemplation of the provisions in the contract of 1915 and that they do not pass through each other or intersect as contended by the defendants.

"As to the issue of trespass and the relief sought, there is not serious conflict in the evidence as to the facts concerning what took place in the drilling of the holes and dumping the water down through them into the lower workings of plaintiff's mine. It is apparent from the testimony that the defendants' agents and employees knew, or reasonably should have known that the drill holes had penetrated the lower levels of plaintiff's mine and for them to thereafter wilfully divert their water by artificial means down through these holes and onto the plaintiff, is unquestionably an act of trespass for which the injured part is entitled to injunctive relief together with the right to recover such damages as have been suffered as a result thereof. In this connection the court finds the reasonable amount of damages to be that as indicated in the computation referred to the sum of $2,531.34.

"As to the scope of the injunction insofar as the "enjoined winze" is concerned we find nothing in the 1915 agreement or contract bearing directly upon any limitation of right of either party to follow their respective veins to the point of contact or encounter. The natural inference would follow that each of the parties in either event would possess title and the right to mine their respective veins to such a point whereupon the question, if it arose, of intersection or junction would then be determined. In the instant case this question having been determined in advance of a meeting of the workings, it appears equitable that the defendants, if precluded from further pursuing their vein in the "enjoined winze" or at any other point where it may endanger life or property of plaintiffs, should be compensated for all such ore as they have been unable to recover by reason of such hazard. The value thereof could be readily ascertained by appraisements.

Counsel for the plaintiff may prepare, serve and file findings and judgment in accord with the views herein expressed and let an injunction issue, conditional, however, as to the enjoined winze as herein indicated.

1200 AFL MINERS

take steps to terminate labor difficulties at all the Grass Valley mines by causing substantially all its members to return to work at said properties, even if it should necessitate their passing through picket lines established by other groups, and will make a bona fide effort to induce all men to return to work at once.

"2—The league understands the concession made by the employer arises from the extraordinary conditions now existing in American industry, which have resulted in higher wages generally and a higher living cost to workmen. The employers reserve the right to withdraw this increase in pay if, following the ending of the present national emergency wages generally and living costs return to a more normal level. This reservation is made because with enormously increased and increasing corporation taxes, prices of materials and reduced ore values and no prospects of increasing the price of gold, the concession made reduces the profits of gold mining in this district below a figure which is at all commensurate with the hazards of our stockholders' investment.

The Empire-Star Mines properties which include the North Star, Empire, and Pennsylvania Mines, are included in the mines affected by the offer.
